RIB CRIB'S ROCK 'N RIB FESTIVAL A HUGE SUCCESS IN SEVENTH YEAR

(Tulsa, Okla.) September 21, 2015 – Celebrating seven years of America’s best barbecue, Rib Crib’s Rock ‘n Rib Festival returned to Downtown Tulsa September 17-20, 2015 welcoming over 36,000 visitors. This SMG Special Event featured four days of championship barbecue, mouth-watering concessions, live performances by 11 regional bands and multi-platinum selling alternative rockers Vertical Horizon. Whiskey Well benefiting the Foundation for Exceptional Warriors, a free fireworks display and Nabholz Boomtown Rib-Off brought even more opportunities for guests to enjoy the festival.

The festival has become a favorite Fall foodie tradition and showcases award-winning barbecue ribs from five teams from across the country. The crews line their stands up on Third Street and Frisco Avenue outside BOK Center to serve up prized recipes to the masses. These professional “pitmasters” (who have been featured on the Travel Channel, Discovery Channel and Food Network) compete around the world and pride themselves on their cooking techniques, secret recipes and unique barbecue sauces and rubs.

Thursday evening, the festival hosted the first ever Nabholz Boomtown Rib-Off. This competition gave seven “average Joe” grillers the opportunity for their ribs to be judged by nationally-recognized pitmasters on Thursday evening. Dennis Hill was the overall winner of the competition, taking home a state-of-the-art Hasty-Bake Grill and bragging rights. Hill worked at Big Boned BBQ’s tent on Friday for Tulsa’s lunch crowd at the festival. His hard work earned $700 for the Folds of Honor Foundation in Owasso, Okla.

The festival also brought together a friendly rivalry. The third annual Sam’s Club Firemen vs. Police rib-eating competition came down to the difference of only one rib. The firemen beat the policemen in the battle and the festival will donate $500 to Oklahoma Firefighters Burn Camp on their behalf.

Friday evening brought severe weather to downtown Tulsa and the festival was forced to shut gates early to keep vendors and guests safe from lightning. Activities resumed as normal on Saturday.

Saturday’s beautiful weather brought large crowds to the festival. Between college football on the Budweiser Lawn Lounge Jumbotron, Seven Year Anniversary Fireworks Display presented by Tulsa Federal Credit Union, Vertical Horizon on the Catalyst Benefits Group Stage and Whiskey Well, guests had their fill of events throughout the day.

BOK CENTER WELCOMES FIVE MILLIONTH FAN

(Tulsa, Okla.) September 25, 2015 – BOK Center hit another monumental milestone this evening at the Florida Georgia Line concert. At around 6:05 PM, the five millionth fan walked through the doors and had their ticket scanned. That lucky person was Hunter Orcutt from Tulsa who was attending with the concert with her husband, Alan.

Orcutt had her seats to the concert upgraded to the first row, she got to meet both Tyler Hubbard and Brian Kelley of Florida Georgia Line prior to the show and she received an assortment of other prizes.

General Manager Jeff Nickler and Assistant General Manager Casey Sparks were present to meet Orcutt to congratulate her for being the winner.

"I never win anything, this is so insane," said Hunter Orcutt. "This is me and my husband's first time to BOK Center. We just moved here from Dallas and our seats tonight were in section 308, row Q. This is the best night ever!"

In addition to the celebration going on inside BOK Center on Friday night, there was also a commemoration to the milestone event displayed outside as well. The BOK Tower in downtown proudly displayed "5M" in lights on the south side of the building for the evening. There was also a celebratory display of lights on the BOK Center plaza at the main entrance provided by Intergriy Lighting.

"It's a testament to the incredible long-standing support of the Tulsa community that we're able to reach this milestone and we couldn't be more grateful," said BOK Center General Manager Jeff Nickler. Condit delivers in Colorado

Comcast, called on Condit for the second year in a row to construct a temporary event space to house their Xfinity Think Tank roundtable during the Colorado Innovation Network (COIN) Summit. COIN attracts entrepreneurs and business leaders from around the state to participate in a series of programs aimed to progress local industry and technology.

With a team of just six and on a tight 36-hour timeframe, Condit was able to construct the 5mx5m building, run power, install HVAC, A/V and carpeting, furnish the interior space and brand the exterior. Successfully installing the temporary structure on one of downtown Denver’s busiest intersections proved a feat for Condit, but “having the opportunity to install our work in our city with a fellow local business was noteworthy for our team,” remarks senior project manager, Mandy Glenwright. “We were even more pleased that Comcast entrusted Condit to create a temporary event space that complemented the surrounding permanent venue.”

SMG TULSA STAFF PARTICIPATES IN CYCLE AROUND THE GLOBE EVENT

(Tulsa, Okla.) – Staff at the SMG-managed BOK Center and Cox Business Center partnered with the Oklahoma Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse to participate in World Suicide Prevention Day: Cycle Around the Globe on Sept. 10. This is the third year for the worldwide annual event.

Coordinated internally by SMG Tulsa's Discover Wellness committee, staff pledged to ride the distance of Route 66 across Oklahoma for a total of 396 miles to raise awareness for mental health.

Stationary bikes were donated for the one-day event by Planet Fitness. By day's end, 50 part-time and full-time employees participated, riding for a total of 407.03 miles to surpass their goal.

“We’re very proud of our commitment to our clients and reinforcing their efforts in the community when possible,” said Jeff Nickler, General Manager of SMG Tulsa at Cox Business Center and BOK Center. “Raising awareness about suicide prevention is necessary and we hope this makes a difference among our staff.”

According to the World Health Organization, more than 800,000 people die by suicide across the world each year. Suicide is the second leading cause of death among 10- to 24-year olds according the National Violent Death Reporting System (NVDRS).

Savannah Kalman, Prevention Program Coordinator for the Oklahoma Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse, spoke at SMG Tulsa's September staff meeting on September 11 about preventing suicide in the workplace. Kalman introduced a one-hour training program called Working Minds to help administrators and employees appreciate the critical need for suicide prevention while creating dialogue about mental health challenges and training for suicidal warning signs.

“Sometimes we spend as much or more time with our work family than our real family,” said Kalman. “Working Minds is an easy training to raise awareness and teach employees warning signs they should be paying attention to among their cohorts. Individually, we each can make a difference when communication tools are in place and open dialogue regarding suicide and mental health is already happening in the workplace.”

Two and four hour training sessions are available, or full-day sessions with trainers for a fee. For more information, visit www.workingminds.org.

World Suicide Prevention Day, recognized annually on September 10, is an opportunity for all sectors of the community to join with the International Association for Suicide Prevention (IASP) to focus public attention on the unacceptable burden and costs of suicidal behaviors with diverse activities to promoted understanding about suicide and highlight effective preventative measures.
